At the light by the McDonald's restaurant on Hwy 29 by-pass around Madison, turn toward the McDonald's side of the hi-way. The Madison Inn will be at the corner where this road crosses N. Chairman John Winn has arranged a speaker for us that we feel will make this a noteworthy meeting. All in all, a pretty full day is planned. Compatriot Francis Lay has been working hard to coordinate all of the details.

Another speaker:

We are expecting that our JROTC Cadet winner, Reginald Doucet, to attend this meeting and share his winning essay with us. This fine young man, a Freshman, was selected over upper classmen to win the competition as the Outstanding JROTC Cadet in Culpeper Minute Men's area of responsibility. Reginald and his family traveled to Richmond to allow this him to receive the third place VASSAR JROTC AWARD. I am looking forward to his presentation, and I hope you are, too. Reginald's essay topic is How has JROTC made me a better citizen of the United States?".

Patriot Ephraim Fray Grave Marking

Immediately following this meeting, we will be marking Patriot Ephraim Fray's grave, so plan on attending that also. If you haven't attended a "marking" yet, try it; you might like it. Beyond the fact that Patriot Grave Marking is one of the Programs sponsored by the Sons of the American Revolution, it is another way we can honor those hearty souls that earned for us the freedoms and opportunities that we enjoy today.

Thad Hartman and Dominic and Francis Lay, have put a lot of effort into planning this particular event. Among other things, they are arranging for a tent and seating for the attendees comfort.
